Re: draft v2 — editorial comments

1. "He killed them" — no. Never. Not in any version.
2. "He signed nine reclassifications" — yes, if you hold copies of all three signatures.
3. "Cover-up" — not until somebody says it on the record.
4. The source's name does not go in the piece under any circumstances, consent or no consent.

4 is the only advice I will take without arguing.
